The screenshot shows a web design application interface. At the top, there are tabs for 'The Card', 'The App', and 'The Company'. A 'Login' button is also visible. On the left, a sidebar titled 'Add' contains sections for 'Elements', 'Layouts', and 'Symbols', with 'Layout' currently selected. Under 'Layout', there are options for 'Section', 'Container', 'Grid', 'Columns', and 'Basic'. Below these are 'Typography' and 'Image' tools. In the center, a preview window displays a credit card with a colorful logo. The text 'We are Petal.' is visible above the card. To the right of the preview is a 'CSS Preview' panel showing the following code:

headline-02 {
    display: flex;
    font-family: Hknowa-Narrow;
    color: black;
    font-size: 2.95vw;
    line-height: 134%;
    font-weight: 300;

headline-02:medium {
    font-size: 35px;
```

Below the CSS preview is a 'Copy to clipboard' button. On the far right, a large panel titled 'headline 02' provides detailed styling options for the headline element, including 'Display' (set to flex), 'Direction' (Horizontal), 'Align' (center), 'Justify' (center), 'Children' (Don't wrap), and 'Spacing' (Margin: 0, Padding: 0). It also includes a color palette, a hex color input (#000000 51 0 0 100), and a position section.
